An Interesting Description of Pasadena.

PASADENA, CAL., Feb. 19, '90.
DEAR INTERIOR:—Like Los Angeles, Pasadena was boomed for all it was worth and a good deal more too, and when the inevitable collapse came it was as complete as there. Thousands of people lost all they had, and in many instances more, and most of those who could raise the necessary means to pay their fare back East, left the place sadder but wiser men. Rents and board are not half what they were during the boom. Houses that brought readily $40 to $50 per month then are a drug on the market to-day at $20, and one can scarcely walk a hundred yards in any direction without seeing placards reading "This house for sale or rent." The depreciation in the value of property and the absence of many of the owners have caused it to be neglected to a great extent; consequently in many parts of the town weeds are allowed to grow; the fruit trees and cypress hedges need trimming; and not a few premises lack that care which is essential to their beauty.

But with all this, Pasadena is a pretty place. The buildings are new and of modern architecture; nearly every avenue is lined with the lovely Pepper and Eucalyptus trees, making some of the finest drives I ever saw; orange trees blooming and laden with the ripe fruit, surround the residences and flowers and semi-tropical fruits decorate the lawns. While the boom was a great disadvantage in some respects it was not without its advantages. More improvements were made in those three or four years than under ordinary circumstances would have been accomplished in a dozen. Nearly everybody was in the real estate business. If not a regular dealer, he at least had his own property to sell, and left nothing undone which would beautify it or enhance its value, and so the town was made almost a Paradise (which it name signifies). Large and substantial business houses and hotels were built; most of the denominations erected splendid churches; fine school buildings were put up; and a large public library was erected. A complete water-works system; numerous street-car lines; 35 or 40 miles of cement sidewalks; gas and electricity and steam fire engines are among the public improvements. A sewerage system which will cost $20,000, is now being put in. Another railroad from Los Angeles has been completed to the town limits.

Although business of every kind is now very dull, it seems to me that, when Pasadena recovers from its severe shock, it will come to the front again, for this is a pleasant place to live; especially for people from the North and Northeast, who will always come here to spend their winters, rather than endure the intense cold of their native States.

The population is made up almost entirely of New England, New York, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa people. 'Tis almost impossible to find any one from Kentucky or the Southern States. The citizens are quiet and orderly and laws are well enforced. Prohibition is in effect and it prohibits, too. The sentiment of the community is strongly against the saloon, and altho' a vote on the proposition is to be taken in about 2 months, it seems to be a foregone conclusion that prohibition will carry again.

The best orange land hereabout is held at $200 per acre, that is for the naked land. To plant this with the best variety of orange trees—the Washington Navel—would cost something over $100 more per acre; the price of trees being 75 to 85 cts. each; and four years would have to pass before the crop would pay the yearly interest on the investment. But from that time the yield of oranges would gradually increase till the 7th or 8th year, when the trees would be in full bearing and would yield a yearly average of $175 to $200 per acre. Lemons, pears and peaches are grown to some extent, but oranges are considered the best paying crop. They say that almost all other fruits can be profitably raised here, but I notice that hardly any others than those I've named are planted. Vacant lots for residences in the prettiest part of Pasadena are offered at $30 to $35 per front foot.

Board with room costs from $5 to $8 per week. Fuel is high, soft coal selling at $11 to $13 per ton and wood at $10 per cord. Gasoline and coal oil are largely used for cooking purposes, the cost of these being very little more than in the East.

Weather since I last wrote has been anything but lovely. Thursday and Friday were disagreeably cool and windy, Saturday ditto and cloudy. Rain set in Saturday night and continued almost without cessation until Sunday night, washing the streets and land badly and interfering considerably with railroad travel. All trains are behind. Monday and yesterday were also cool, cloudy and rainy, but there are signs now for better weather. Had a pretty heavy frost last night. It doesn't rain very often in Southern California, but when it does, there's no telling when it is going to let up. I was sorry to see this damp, cool weather. I wasn't expecting such here. It is not calculated to benefit one with catarrh. However, it may not rain again before next winter.

Just think! I've not had a line from Stanford later than the 31st of January. That was the INTERIOR JOURNAL, received at Barstow, Cal., forwarded from New Orleans. Thinking I would go to San Diego, I had my mail sent there, and I haven't been able so far to have it forwarded to this place. I'm awful anxious to hear from Kentucky.

T. R. WALTON.

JUNCTION CITY, BOYLE COUNTY.

—The negro who was accidentally shot on the train at Parksville by a drummer received only a very slight flesh wound—and 50 cents and a cigar.

—"Laughing Room Only" is the appropriate motto on the little house used for a jail in this city. It is almost too small for plenty of room to laugh in.

—Preparations are being made for the large hotel to be built at Linnetta Springs as soon as spring arrives. The hotel will be a model for a summer resort.

—The human family is not rushing to Middlesboro of late as a few weeks ago. Perhaps Barbourville, Pineville, Big Stone Gap and Harrison are responsible for it. Capt. T. H. Bell expects to engage in the real estate business at the latter place.

—Miss B. Riley passed through here Sunday from Stanford on a visit to her parents at Burgin. She is a beautiful and accomplished young lady. Miss M. E. Carney, who has been visiting her brother's family at Stanford, returned home Sunday. Miss Maggie Harberson, of Mitchellsburg, is visiting Miss Jennie Cosby. J. L. Rose is in Missouri attending the Neal trial. Judge John Belden and John McChord, Esq., of Lebanon, were in town last week. Mr. E. B. Ludwick, conductor on the Hodgenville branch of the N. N. & M. V. R. R., was in town last week. He came up to see a Hodgenville beauty, who is visiting in this vicinity.

What the Country May Expect.

Gov. McCreary closed his masterly argument against the code of rules, which have been adopted by the republican mob in the House, as follows:

It has been well said that "Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad." The excesses and the unprecedented rules of the party now in control of the House argue no good for them.

The lobby will soon be clamoring at the door of the Capitol. Corporations and syndicates and rings will soon after the code of rules is adopted, come and ask their share of the legislation. Reckless appropriations of the public money, unneeded pension legislation, wasteful educational bills, federal election schemes with a horde of salaried officers, a tariff bill that will lighten or remove the taxes on luxuries and increase the taxes on the necessities of life, are some of the inequities that will soon come from the republican Pandora box.

I believe the despotic and revolutionary code of rules, which, before to-morrow's sun goes down, will receive the votes of the republican majority of this House, is the first movement in a grand plan, originated by the republican leaders, for the purpose of perpetuating their power and their control of the government, but I do not fear the result. The people, whose servants we are, understand the situation. The cyclone will come next November, and the sovereigns of our country, to whom we take the final appeal, will, in my judgment, drive from power the republican majority of the House. [Applause on the democratic side.]

What Not to Say.

There are several "don'ts" which should be observed whenever two or more women are gathered together, but which, alas! are frequently disregarded. For instance, don't say to a friend, "How stout you are growing." No lady likes to be told she is growing or has grown stout. If it be a fact, she is doubtless well aware of it and anxious to keep others from discovering it. Don't say "How thin you are," either, for both women and men loathe to be told that they are either stout or thin. Unless you can say, "How well you are looking," it is better to make no remark on the personal appearance of your friend. Don't tell a friend who has on a particularly becoming gown or bonnet that she looks ten years younger than in anything you have ever seen her wear. Don't tell her, either, that it is the most becoming thing you have ever seen her wear. This is an impeachment of her taste heretofore, though you have no such thought.

Talk about questions of the day! There is but one question and that is the gospel. It can and will correct everything needing correction. All men at the head of great movements are christian men. During the many years I was in the cabinet I was brought into association with 60 master minds, and all but five of them were christians. My only hope for the world is in bringing the human mind in contact with divine revelation.—Gladstone.

—M. F. Elkin bought of J. C. Bradley a harness gelding for $150.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Washington's birthday passed unnoticed by the patriots of this vicinity.
—George Edwards has another bouncing boy at his house, which makes a pair.

—W. P. Tate has rigged up his 'bus in splendid style and now meets both day trains as during the summer season.

—Alex Johnson and West King, two young bucks of African extraction, got into a row over a game of cards at the cock pit Tuesday and exchanged several shots at each other. Both have been arrested.

—None of our citizens have as yet notified the public that they would apply for license to sell whisky here. But the general supposition is that there will be about three bar-rooms in and around town.

—"Aunt Mandy" Roberts' house on the Somerset road caught fire Tuesday night and with all the outbuildings was completely destroyed. The only occupants were a family of negroes living in the rear part, who barely escaped with their lives. "Aunt Mandy" was at her sister's, below Stanford. Loss $700 or $800. Fire supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

—Prof. Shaw and Linning, of Mt. Vernon, were here Friday to confer with our citizens about removing their Normal School to this place. Their building at Mt. Vernon, they claim, is not sufficiently commodious for their growing patronage and their object is to secure the College building here. A good normal school with every department complete is what we need badly. The trustees held a consultation with Prof. Shaw and Linning Friday night, but with what results we were unable to learn.

—That genial gentleman, T. B. Carson, of Cincinnati, is in town. J. W. James and wife are back from the South. Mrs. Dr. Blair, receiving news that her mother who lives in Letcher county, was dangerously ill, went thither Monday. James Miller, of Hazel Patch, was here Saturday to see his wife and little daughter. Mrs. J. C. Rhinehart, after a few weeks' sojourn with her mother, has rejoined her husband at Pineville. Mr. G. W. Edwards, Jr., of Indianapolis, Ind., returned home Monday after a pleasant visit to his cousin, George Edwards. Miss Della Edmiston, the pretty brunette of Greenfield, Ill., who visited Misses Lida and Mary Edmiston last month, will be married this week to a popular young gentleman of Greenfield.

—Mrs. Mollie, wife of James L. Yantis, died of childbirth at her home near here, Thursday night. She was the youngest daughter of the late George W. King, Esq., and in the flush of young and beautiful womanhood was married to Mr. Yantis five years ago. Your scribe was among the spectators who witnessed the nuptials. A devoted wife and kind mother and an earnest christian woman, she leaves a void that will never be filled. After funeral services at the home her remains were deposited in the family lot at the cemetery. A procession, the longest we have ever seen here, attested to the esteem in which she was held. The bereaved husband has the sympathy of the community.

—About 9:30 Tuesday night an alarm of fire was sounded from the Harris House and soon a score or more of citizens were rushing thither at a double quick speed. Mr. Clement B. Johnson, a drummer, who occupied a room on the second floor, had, it seems, gone out to see his girl and left a big fire burning in the stove. He told the porter he would be back about 10 o'clock and to go up to his room and replenish the fire before then. Between 9 and 10 the porter entered the room and found it full of smoke and immediately gave the alarm. Investigation showed that the carpeting and floor around the stove had caught fire and but for the timely arrival of the porter must have proved destructive to the building. Some years ago a portion of the hotel was destroyed by a similar accident.

—After days of intense suffering occasioned by mental derangement, Dr. E. T. Stevenson passed away at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. He was a graduate of the Louisville Medical College and up to 3 or 4 years ago was one of the foremost physicians in the county and had a large and lucrative practice, but at that time opium, to the use of which he was unfortunately addicted, began to undermine his constitution. He was sent to the asylum at Lexington, where he remained until a few months since, when he was brought home by his parents, apparently improved in mind though sadly wasted in limb and features. He would talk with his friends and occasionally wander out upon the street. He never gained absolute mastery of himself, but gradually grew worse until death relieved him. Kind, courteous and elegant in his tastes he was universally popular as a man and as a physician his merit was attested by his being a member of the Kentucky Medical Association. His remains were taken to Stanford for interment Sunday. To the family go out the sympathy of all here.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—M. B. Mortor, city editor of the Nashville American, will be married next Wednesday to Miss Emma Collier, sister of Mr. J. R. Collier, of the Franklin Favorite.

—Mrs. Mollie Cornin, of Shelbyville, Ind., is probably the most married female in the East or West, so far as is known. She was divorced from her 8th husband at the last term of court and last week took a section foreman on the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis railroad as her 9th victim.

—The Harrodsburg Democrat says the fellow who first kisses the bride after the ceremony "deserves a chromo from the less adventurous gentlemen who follow him." But who wants to kiss a bride after several masculine months have come into contact with hers? It is almost as bad as kissing a "nawsty" man direct.

—At 2 o'clock this afternoon, in the parlors of the Louisville Hotel, Miss Mary Jones, of this place, and Mr. O. B. Riley, a prominent young attorney of Pineville, will be made husband and wife. Only a few special friends will be present and after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Riley will take a bridal tour of several weeks, including Washington, Richmond and a number of other Eastern cities. Miss Jones is an accomplished young lady, with a decided business turn of mind, and will make a true and loving helpmeet for the lucky young man who, besides winning his fair bride, has made a snug little fortune in Middlesboro and Pineville speculations.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—Mrs. Belle Linney, wife of E. B. Linney, died at Danville. She was 37 years old and leaves five children.

—Mrs. James L. Yantis died Friday last of paralysis of the heart, superinduced by pneumonia and remittent fever, at her home near Crab Orchard. She had been ill for over two weeks, during which time she bore her intense sufferings with the fortitude of a true christian woman, as she was. Mrs. Yantis was Miss Mollie King and before her marriage frequently visited this place, where she had a large circle of friends. About three years ago she was married to James L. Yantis, who is now bowed down with grief over the loss of a true and loving wife, and who has the sympathy and consolation of many in this and adjoining counties. Early in life Mrs. Yantis joined the Christian church and has since been a devout member. She leaves a two-year-old son, who will greatly feel the want of a mother's tender care. The funeral, conducted by Elder J. P. Frank, took place at her late home at 10 o'clock Saturday, after which many loving friends followed the remains to their last resting place in Crab Orchard cemetery.

—The average of the 46 head of trotters sold at Lexington Thursday was $3,025, King, son of George Wilkes, bringing $31,000.

—W. M. Hughes, of Danville, sold to R. M. Jackson, London, a 5-year-old Messenger Chief stallion for $425.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

—The wheat is said to have been badly damaged in the Ohio Valley by the cold wave, while the peach and other small fruits have suffered severely.

—Moreland & Lee sold this week to J. W. Poor & Co., of Garrard, 57 hogs at 24 cents. Hugely Bros., also sold to same parties 32 hogs.—Danville Advocate.

—I. S. Tevis, Spring Hill Farm, sold to Hinkle, of Lexington, a 4-year-old mare for $50, a 4-year-old gelding for $175 and a 3-year-old gelding for $175.—Woodford Sun.

—Mrs. Sallie Ray's barn near Raywick was destroyed by fire and with it 29 horses and mules and a $1,000 race-horse perished. A big lot of oats and hay were destroyed. Insurance on barn $10,000.

Mr. WATSON tells a Milwaukee reporter that unless Mr. Cleveland goes to the convention backed by the solid vote of New York, it would be suicide for the democrats to nominate him and says, "Under no circumstances can Mr. Hill be nominated. I know him personally and respect him, but do not believe that he can ever be president. He probably can, and possibly will, defeat Cleveland for the nomination, but he cannot secure it for himself." Mr. Watson does not seem to have much love for Mr. Cleveland, though he says he has nothing against him. From the interview one would obtain the impression that the great journalist is for Gov. Abbott, of New Jersey, whom he describes as every inch a man and every ounce a democrat. The politicians may not be for Mr. Cleveland, but the people are for him first, last and all the time, and if he is nominated, which now seems probable, they will elect him by such a majority as was never known.

The story is sent out from Pikeville by a Cincinnati Commercial Gazette correspondent that the Hatfields had bribed the jail cook with $200 to put strychnine in the food prepared for the guards. She weakened, however, after trying the drug on the cat with fatal results and failed to fulfill her part of the agreement. The understanding was that she was to inform them when the men got sick and then they would raid the jail and rescue the condemned man. The Hatfields are very desperate individuals, but it is more than likely that this story is a weak invention of a sensation fiend, who delights in serving up something red-hot from the dark and bloody ground for the benefit of his Northern readers.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has adopted an unmanly means of revenge by appointing negro postmasters at the homes of Southern Congressmen. He has sought to "humiliate" several in this way, the last being Representative Crisp, of Georgia, the man who fought Reed and his mob so persistently in their determination to ride rough-shod over the minority in Congress. If Mr. Harrison really wants to show his fondness for the negro why does he not appoint one postmaster in the North, where they made his election possible and where brotherly love is supposed to predominate? No, as he said himself, "I should dislike very much to see a negro post-master at Indianapolis."

Gov. BORGES will be inaugurated governor of Iowa next Thursday and the democrats propose to make the event one long to be remembered. He will be the first democrat to occupy the gubernatorial mansion in 40 years. Visitors will also be treated with the rare sight of a democratic speaker presiding over the lower House of the Legislature, a curiosity indeed since it is almost past recollection since a member of that party was similarly honored. But Iowa has fallen into the democratic line and is distinguishing herself in this year of our Lord. The tariff agitation did it.

THE Mayfield Monitor says that the gentlemen who signed Maj. Henry S. Hais's bond for $300,000 are listed with over $700,000 of property. The people of his section are very proud of his appointment as State treasurer. The paper adds that he is a man of sound business sense, as honest as ever a man was and he will fill the position in an acceptable manner as any man in the State. The finances of the Commonwealth will be safe in his hands, and he will come out of the office with the good will and respect of all with whom he may have dealings.

If the legislature is anxious to investigate somebody, who seems to need investigation, we cite them to Judge W. F. Russell of the 18th Judicial District. Commonwealth's Attorney Shuck makes numerous serious charges against him, which if even half true, would indicate that it is time for the judge to go. Let his conduct of office be investigated by all means. The people demand it and the judge deserves to be vindicated, if he is not in league with criminals as Mr. Shuck would indicate.

THE craze for running around the world to break the record of exploits in that direction, is on and many attempts are to be made. The citizens of Port Townsend, Washington, have subscribed $3,000 to send Miss Regina Rothschild around upon her guarantee that she will make the trip in 69 days. It is also said that George Francis Train will attempt to break the record, but if he breaks his neck instead the people will rejoice over the fact that one less crank has gone to his reward.

We were a spectator of the proceedings of the legislature during the consideration of the question of extending the session beyond the constitutional limit of 60 days, which would expire on the 27th. The House put through an indefinite extension resolution in short order, though several members who love to hear themselves talk, persisted in explaining their votes. The call of the ayes and nays showed 71 for extension to 28 against it, the latter being record makers who wished to pull the wool over their credulous constituents. The resolution was immediately reported to the Senate, which was also considering the question and that body after several hours spent in filibustering concurred in it 29 to 3, all of which means that the boys have determined to hold on to their per diem till May or longer if possible. It was absolutely necessary that the session should be extended, as nothing of general importance has been done, but the solons ought to buckle down to business now and get home at least by corn planting time.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR, the richest man in America, has gone the way of all flesh. He was 57 years old and left a fortune estimated all the way from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000, which goes to his only son, William Waldorf Astor. This immense fortune was founded by John Jacob Astor the first, who came to America in 1784, with no other worldly possessions but six flutes and two other musical instruments. He died in 1850 with $20,000,000.

An exchange remarks that Prof. Loissette's memory system is creating greater interest than ever. It is a wonderful system, as it makes one fail to remember the things that he does not wish to. For instance, those here who paid their good money for the snap have entirely forgotten, leastwise they never mention it, that they bit at the alluring bait.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

A bill to incorporate the Bank of Stanford is before the House.

The Senate has passed a bill reducing the State tax from 47 1/2 to 42 1/2.

The prohibition question is to be resubmitted in Hardin, after a trial of four years.

Senator Breckinridge had passed an act to incorporate the Cincinnati & Kentucky Southern railroad company.

Gov. Buckner has signed the Cigarette bill and now no child of 18 or under can buy the little pests without subjecting the seller to severe penalty.

Bills for the benefit of the Rush Branch Turnpike road company and for board of internal improvement for Lincoln county have been presented by Mr. Warren.

The bill to incorporate the Cumberland railroad company, presented by Mr. Warren, passed the House, after some slight amendments as a compromise with the one sent from Adair.

Lt. Gov. Bryan has put the question so often that he has gotten so he can say this faster than you can think, and here's about the way he does it:

"Senators all in favor of the resolution say aye those opposed no and clerk will call the roll."

Hon. R. C. Warren is preparing a big speech against the unconstitutional methods which are being endeavored to be used in calling a constitutional convention. He says that the people have not said by the majority required that they want the convention and that they would have said so at the polls had they so desired. In the latter statement he is borne out by the vote when the convention was called 40 years ago. In 1847 the number of qualified voters reported by the auditor was 136,445, of whom 92,639 voted for the convention. In 1848 the qualified voters numbered 130,612 and 101,828 voted for the constitutional convention, which was accordingly called in 1850. Mr. Warren is for a constitutional convention, but he is opposed to unconstitutional methods for calling it.

The vicinity of San Francisco is suffering from rain storms. Two inches fell Friday. The season's total rainfall to date now nearly equals that of the famous season of 1832, the year of Sacramento's flood. Love ran smoothly for awhile, but the usual quarrel came, and when the gallant hack driver swore he would visit the girl no more, her tender heart could not withstand this cruel announcement, so she went off and drank a cup of cold poison. The doctors tried to pump it out of her, but the love-lorn creature refused to disgorge and was soon in that happy clime where hack drivers cease from troubling and the weary lover is at rest.

Taxation in itself is never a blessing, it is always a burden. So long as taxation is limited to the necessities of the government economically administered, the people are willing to bear the burden; but when a tribute is levied upon them beyond that, they have cause for complaint.

BANK STOCK.—An administrator of Thomas M. Ball, deed, I will sell at public auction on Monday, March 3, county court day, 16 shares Lincoln National Bank stock. Thomas C. Ball.

THOSE patriotic citizens, the bankers and post-office people, celebrated Washington's birthday in great shape. The old gentleman would have been 158 Saturday, if he hadn't been squeamish about telling a lie. The good die young and he was made a victim.

AN objection made by one of the farmers of this county to the proposed railroad which is to run from this place to Nashville is that it will enhance the lands so that the owner cannot afford to till the soil longer and will be thrown out of business. Solomon with all his wisdom could not have invented so unanswerable an objection as this.

THE Lancaster News issued a six-page edition to show by interviews how unanimous the people of that county are for the railroad proposed from Bargoin, in Mercer county, through Garrard to Lancaster, thence to Boone's Gap, in Madison, thence to McKee, in Jackson, thence to Manchester, Clay county, and thence the most practicable route to Middlesboro. The work was very cleverly done and reflects much credit on the young editor.

THE city council met Saturday night and after a stormy session agreed to stand by its action to fix the liquor license at not less than $500 nor more than $1,000. There was a strong effort made to make the minimum $250, but it was argued that while the present board has a majority of high license men, the next set to be elected in April might go in on the platform of low license. There is hardly a man in town, who is not a prohibitionist, that does not advocate high license and our representative should see that the law is railroaded through this week.

THE report comes from Gray's, a station on the Cumberland Valley Branch, that John Stringer, of Pittsburgh, and Andrew Lane, of Trigg county, were killed in an encounter at a whisky dive near there Sunday. Stringer's jugular was severed by a stab through the neck and Lane was shot in the left breast just above the heart. It is supposed that Lane was shot by Stringer and the latter knifed by Louis Brothers. Lane was a carpenter in the employ of the North Jellico Coal Company, and was a quiet, industrious man. Stringer was a desperate character and it is said this was the eighth man he had shot. Whisky the cause.

MRS. JOHN T. DEDDERAR, who was a Miss Hammonds, died Sunday night of inflammation of the bowels, after an illness of a week. Mortification set in so quickly that she had to be buried next morning. There were rumors that the inflammation was caused by a blow from her husband, and an effort to have a post mortem examination was made, but for some reason it was not held. The woman admitted to her physician that in their periodical family broil last week her husband had pushed her down and sat on her, but she refused to say he struck her, calling it a shove instead. Mr. Duddar seemed to be very devoted to the woman, and the matter must be exaggerated.

THE sheriff of the election made a list of the names of those who voted for whisky and it is said they will have several hundred copies printed, and post them in every conspicuous place in the district, so that every one may know who it is that don't hold themselves higher than to vote for the accursed traffic. The names of the church members will be marked with a star.—Waynesburg letter in Somerset Reporter. We'll wager the $15 in our inside pocket that the aforesaid sheriff will do nothing of the kind. If he had attended to his business as the law required he would not have found so much time to copy names. It was his duty to have delivered the poll book here in person in time for an enumeration of the vote Wednesday, but he failed to do it and it did not arrive till Friday, when it came by express. Had the result of the election been otherwise a great howl would have gone up from the prohibitionists on the failure of this book to arrive and charges would have been made that foul play was being attempted.

THE trial of Beatty Wickliffe, the negro who killed Mr. Evan Warren, is set for to-day at Danville and that of Isaac Shelby, Jr., for killing George Lingenfelt, for next Friday. A special venire was ordered in each case.

CAPT. GEER tells us that a white man killed a negro at Jellico Saturday night, but he could not learn the names of either of them. The murderer was lodged in jail at Williamsburg and if he deserves it, as we suppose he does, it is hoped that a hanging will shortly occur in Whitley.

THERE has been an effort to attach Rowland and Stanford, but we fear it has miscarried. Some of the citizens there are opposed to it, though as a matter of economy they might well consider it. The proposition is to give them two members of the city council and a policeman, but this does not seem to be sufficient inducement for the aspiring citizen to give up his chance to wear the title of police judge of Rowland.

THE cold snap was followed by a dreary Sunday with leaky clouds. That night a severe thunder storm, accompanied by heavy rain, startled the slumberers and from that time till we went to press yesterday rain fell until the whole face of the earth seemed a sheet of water. The precipitation must have been several inches. Vivid lightning and rolling thunder continued at intervals all day, adding further to the variety of this unusual winter. At 3 o'clock there was a cloudburst and the rain 1 as it never did before. The street was a huge canal and the creek swelled in a few minutes to a mighty, roaring river. It was absolutely alarming. The damage is bound to be heavy.

THE poll-book from Waynesburg did not arrive till Friday, when the vote on the prohibition law was officially declared as given below. It will be seen that the majority is exactly the same as given in our issue of a week ago:

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Office Singer Manufacturing Company, Cincinnati, O., Feb. 20, 1890: We beg leave to announce that Mr. P. H. Idol has been relieved from the management of our business at Danville, Ky., and Mr. R. Eason has been appointed our duly authorized agent in his stead. In order to secure prompt attention, all communications with reference to Singer Sewing Machines, should be addressed to "The Singer Manufacturing Co., Danville, Ky." The public is cordially invited to visit our new parlors on Third street, two doors south of the post-office, where a full supply of Needles, Parts and Attachments may be obtained. Very respectfully, The Singer Manufacturing Company.

HOUSE BURNED.—About noon Friday the residence of Mr. A. E. Hundley, near the Boyle county line, was discovered to be on fire and had so far progressed that efforts to save it or its contents were of little avail. The neighbors hurried to the scene and succeeded in saving a very small quantity of furniture, but it was rendered almost useless by being broken in the hurry to get it out. It is supposed that the fire caught from sparks on the roof, as it was first seen there. The building was one of the oldest in the county and was known as the Beatty Logan house. It was of brick and was built over 70 years ago, though it had been remodeled repeatedly to keep pace with the generations it has sheltered. The loss is quite heavy and is only partially covered by an insurance of $2,500.

BARBOURVILLE.—JAMES G. GIVENS, the president of the company which has been organized with a capital of $2,000,000 to develop this pretty mountain town, said to a reporter: "Barbourville has a population of 2,500 and is rapidly growing. In a few years this figure will be more than quadrupled. We are going to put on city airs, too. We have already made a contract with the Thompson-Houston people for a system of electric lights and in 21 days the plant will be at work and the electric lights will be blazing all over the town. More than that, we have just contracted with a New Albany man for the construction of five miles of street. The mules men and wagons are already on the ground and the work will be completed in 90 days. The principal street is 2 1/2 miles long and 100 feet wide, and will be called 'Allison avenue,' in honor of Louisville's well-known townsman, Mr. Young E. Allison. Barbourville is in the race and other nags must look to their laurels. She has the situation, the natural resources and the facilities for transportation. Barbourville already has a street-car line, handsome residences, good schools, fine churches, and all modern conveniences." The company claims that precisely similar coal is found at Barbourville which has attracted so much attention at Pineville, and that it is the same both in quantity and quality. Near the town is also magnificent forests of the finest timber and minerals of all sorts. More than all this, it is believed that oil and natural gas can be found there in paying quantities.

If our people want the Cumberland railroad to be built through the county, now is the time to strike. We learn that if the right-of-way is obtained the work will commence in 30 days. Messrs. J. S. Murphy, F. Reid, J. E. Bruce, John O. Neal and K. L. Tanner have been appointed to secure the right-of-way and they will perform their duty at once. Let every man be as liberal as he can in dealing with them, if he cannot give it free of charge.

THREE notices of intention to apply for liquor license are up in town for the next county court and the probability is that at noon next Monday the saloon system will take the place of the drug store and the blind tiger. Those who will apply for license next Monday are E. H. Burnside, M. C. Portman and Anderson Carr, the latter a gentleman of color, who is as much entitled to the privileges of the law, provided he complies with its requirements, as the white man. The city license tax will likely be fixed at the minimum rate of $500 for the first year.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. George Hunt went to New Haven yesterday to assist Rev. Burkholder in a protracted meeting.

—Rev. J. R. Savage, of Georgetown, who is to assist Rev. T. J. Godbey in the meeting at the Methodist church, arrived yesterday and services will be held daily at 10 A. M. and 7 P. M. until further notice.

—Rev. Henry Duncan, a Baptist minister, was hanged at Ozark, Ala., Friday, for the murder of his wife last July. Georgia Baldrice, a young woman, administered the poison and afterwards eloped with the parson, who was captured in Florida.

—Wanted.—To rent out a house and good garden to some one who will work well. J. H. Miller.

There is no immediate danger of the United States becoming overcrowded, for Joseph Nimmo, Jr., shows in Frank Leslie's paper that since independence was achieved the United States government has been the largest owner of arable land on the earth. The total area of the "public domain," sold and unsold, amounts to 1,849,072,586 acres and constitutes 72 per cent. of the total area of the United States, including Alaska. About 700,000,000 acres of land have been sold and donated, about 1,150,000,000 acres remain unsold. As the area of Alaska is 369,532,000 acres, the area unsold exclusive of that territory is about 780,000,000 acres.

The City of Middlesboro.
(To the Editor of the Interior Journal.)
MIDDLESBORO, Feb. 22.—Everyone who comes to Middlesboro and looks around is not only surprised but astounded at the amount of improvements going on here and for one to think that there is any possibility of its being anything else than a great city is unheard of. And while there has been, to some extent, a fall in real estate transactions for the past two weeks, you can't get anyone who is here and in a position to see and judge of the future of the place, to offer you any inducements in prices of property to buy. They all hold firm and are perfectly confident that the fast growth Middlesboro is undergoing will in the not far future realize for them a handsome profit by holding, and those who are in positions to know, and whose judgment cannot be sneezed at, predict a great advance in property here within the next 30 days and it only requires a little investigation to convince the most doubtful observer that these predictions will come true.

The new hotel which is now undergoing completion is "a thing of beauty" and can't be compared to anything, the readers of this article have likely ever seen. Louisville nor Cincinnati has anything to compare with it; the inside is being finished up in most magnificent style and makes a common ordinary individual feel his insignificance when he enters its gilded apartments (so that class of individuals tell me, of course I am not one of them). The building is to be heated by steam and lighted by electricity from basement to attic. Its halls are large and spacious and finished in beautifully paneled wainscoting of all kinds of hard wood known in this country; the bedrooms are light and airy and from any window of which you can get a splendid view of all the surrounding country; the dining room is light, convenient and well arranged, while the parlors are being finished in magnificence and splendor, with niches for statuary here and there; the bathrooms and closets are all walled and finished in marble and are far ahead of anything we have ever seen in either public or private houses. Inside of these nothing but solid marble can be seen except the hardwood doors and brass pipes and faucets. This magnificent palace will be formally opened, with festivities about the first of April. All of the swells here are brushing up their spade tail coats for the occasion and we know of a couple of old married men from the blue-grass regions, with wives and children at home, who have actually sent to their tailors and bought new spade-tails, but I can't give their names for fear they will not get a chance to use them. I have been requested to make out a list of the blue-grass belles to be invited to attend this grand opening and give this hint that all may be prepared to meet the Lords, Earls, Dukes, Marquises, Barons, Knights, &c. This hotel so poorly described is a fair sample of all the work being done here by the companies operating. Everything is first-class and no expense is spared to make it so. The landscape gardening around the hotel can be compared with the south park flower garden at Chicago. Anyone who has ever visited it can form some idea of what the hotel surroundings will be when completed. The work of the company continues unabated, and the grading and McAdamizing of streets is progressing with rapidity. The steam shovels with railroad cars to move the dirt can do an immense amount of work in 24 hours and that is what constitutes a day's work for them. They never cease work except on Sundays.

The piers for the railroad crossing over Cumberland avenue are almost completed and when done through trains from Knoxville will make regular trips. The company have purchased and had shipped here a splendid steam fire engine, capable of throwing five streams of water at one time, which has been placed in the engine house erected by the company. The engine was on trial Tuesday and gave splendid satisfaction. Thirteen car loads of heavy machinery have arrived for the iron furnaces and will be put in position as soon as possible. The wants and needs of a large city seem to be anticipated by the Middlesboro Town Co., and are arranged for as fast as money and energy will command. Agreements have been signed already for a Basic Steel and Iron plant with a daily capacity of 300 tons to cost $1,000,000 and to employ about 1,000 hands. An iron rod mill, sheet mill and nail mill, two coke iron furnaces, 150 tons daily capacity each, and one charcoal furnace, a $500,000 tannery, the largest in the world, fourteen coal mining enterprises to employ about $2,000,000 capital, a dozen wood working enterprises, a 12-mile belt railroad line nearing completion, tile works, fire and building brick machines and a dozen or more other enterprises. These enterprises are as sure to locate here as time lasts and that within as short a space of time as it is possible to put them in operation.

The principal railway systems converging here, or pressing their construction to this point are: The Louisville & Nashville and the Knoxville, Cumberland Gap & Louisville, which is completed, the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia, the Norfolk & Western, the South Atlantic & Ohio, the Charleston, Cincinnati & Chicago, the Middlesboro & Western, the West Virginia, Pineville & Tennessee and the Richmond Terminal, via the Morristown & Cumberland Gap Extension.

Now considering all of these gigantic schemes, which are sure to materialize, and that soon, who doubts that Middlesboro has a future before her to be envied by other metropolises. The Town Co. is rather pleased with the lull in real estate transactions and think it will turn the attention to building and improving property owned by private parties and this seems to some extent to have been the result. There is now under construction about 13 or 14 nice brick buildings here and any number of nice frame residences. The company are offering such liberal inducements to builders to put up brick business houses that I hardly think there will be many more frames to go up.

The site of Middlesboro is picturesque in the extreme, situated as it is at the foot of the Cumberland mountains, near the junction of the three States of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, and in a beautiful valley of some 6,000 acres, surrounded by a range of mountains, the highest point of which is 1,350 feet above the valley. The lower part of this valley has had some trouble with overflows, which will be avoided as soon as the canal is completed. Yellow Creek being such a crooked, lazy stream it carries off the water very slowly from the canal, which empties into it like a mill race, but if money can accomplish it, the drainage system of Middlesboro will in a short time be perfect. The small booming towns in other sections which have sprung up, have to some extent attracted the attention of speculators, but they drift back to the destined metropolis in great numbers and claim to be poorly satisfied with prospects elsewhere.

The company's auction sale of Middlesboro lots will begin May 20. W. S. MILLER.

—H. F. Hillenmeyer, the well-posted Lexington nurseryman, whose advertisement will be found in another column, says: The long continued warm weather does not seem to have exerted so bad an influence on the general fruit prospect as might be expected. Peach buds are somewhat advanced, as also Keiffer and LeConte pears, but apples, cherries, plums and strawberries are quite dormant. Toward the end of the '90s I remember the peaches to have been in full bloom the middle of February and a fine crop followed. The present outlook does not discourage the hope of a satisfactory fruit crop, although, after such a mild winter, we may expect an unusual crop of caterpillars, moths, worms and aphides.

It has long been accepted as a fact that married couples, who are not only exposed to the same conditions of life but the influence of whose minds must necessarily react upon each other, assume a more or less strong facial resemblance to each other. The photographic society of Geneva, Switzerland, with a view to determining this question, have made photographs of 78 young couples. The result is that in 24 cases the resemblance in the personal appearance of the husband and wife was greater than that of brother and sister; in 30 cases it was equally great, and in only 24 was there a total absence of resemblance.

There is no date from beginning to end in the Bible. It comprises some 60 documents, and it is supposed to have been written by about 40 men; 54 miracles are recorded in the Old and 51 in the New Testament; total 105. The shortest verse in the Old Testament is, "Remember Lot's wife." There is one in the New Testament as short as John 11:35, in point of words, but not in letters, viz: Thessalonians 5:16, "Rejoice evermore." Then there are two chapters in the Bible alike verbatim, and one book, Esther, in which the Deity is not mentioned.

Prohibition in none of the States in which it has been tried has ever justified the expectations of its champions. Sentiment against it is becoming strong in Iowa, and there is no doubt that a revolt against it in Kansas will begin in the near future. A more sensible because more practical method of restricting the liquor traffic is offered by high license and local option, and that scheme will undoubtedly be adopted ultimately in both States.—Globe Democrat.

"It fills my heart with joy," said an earnest country clergyman at the conclusion of his sermon, "to see so many strangers among our congregation on this beautiful Sabbath morning. Sojourners in our town are always welcome. We want them to come. Young men and old men, whom pleasure or business has called away from the softening influences of home, we greet with open hearts. The collection will now be taken up."

The Scientific American gives this receipt for making liquid glue that will stay liquid all the time: Dilute 2 to 2½ parts nitric acid with 40 or 50 of water. In this soak 25 parts of glue for 24 hours and then heat until it is all of one consistency. The quantity of acid depends on the quality of the glue to a certain extent.

Nearly 7,500,000 gallons more of whiskey were made in the United States in 1889 than in 1888. This does not necessarily mean that there are more drunkards among us. The additional whiskey was largely used in the industrial arts.

If you or any of your family should happen to be frantically burned or scalded, what have you in the house to alleviate the pain until you can get a physician? A box of Bege's German Salve at hand in times like this would save a world of suffering and oftentimes a doctor bill, as it has no equal in cases of this kind, as well as inflammation of all kinds. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

When you need a mild laxative you should have a medicine that will act on the liver and kidneys as well as the bowels. Bege's Vegetable Liver Pills are prepared expressly for this purpose. Insist on getting them as they have no superior and few equals. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

A Lady in South Carolina Writes: My labor was shorter and less painful than on two former occasions; physicians astonished; I thank you for "Mother's Friend." It is worth its weight in gold. Address The Bradford Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for particulars. Sold by A. R. Penny.

DRUNKENNESS—THE LIQUOR HABIT—In all the World there is but one cure, Dr. Haines' Golden Specific. It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured. It has taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. The harmful effect results from its administration. Carefully read the circular and full particulars. Address in confidence GARDNER SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.

We take the following from the Frankfort Capital: "Soon after the session of the General Assembly opened, Hon. R. C. Warren, the brilliant young representative from Lincoln county, in accordance with a promise made to his constituents during his canvass, had a law enacted submitting to the people of Lincoln the question: 'Are you for or against the repeal of the prohibitory liquor law in Lincoln county?' An election under this bill may be held every three years and the first was had last Saturday. Yesterday Mr. Warren received from Mr. W. P. Walton, of the Stanford Interior Journal, the following dispatch: 'STANFORD, Feb. 16.—Prohibition is defeated by about 250. Now give us a high license law and all will be well.'"

Do you know that a change has come in the matter of perfumes? Instead of using liquid perfumes or powders, it is considered the thing to "pencil" one's self here and there, in the hollow of the hand, on the cheek, or on the forehead with small sticks of concentrated perfumes representing one's favorite odor. Everybody is now buying these pencils of violet, moss-rose or verberna, which women carry about in their pockets in order to perfume themselves when the fancy seizes them. In fact, the rage for this method of perfuming is so wholesale that it has started a new industry—that of the perfume pencils.—Clara Belle.

A man called at the executive mansion one afternoon to tell the president some details of a battle recently fought. He was admitted and President Lincoln listened to him at first eagerly and then with patience. It took him a long time to complete his story. When he was through, Mr. Lincoln said mildly and pleasantly: "Young man, when people tell me a story it usually reminds me of something; but do you know that what you have just told doesn't remind me of anything at all?"—Congressman Flower.

A Child Killed. Another child killed by the use of opium given in the form of soothing syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can receive the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no opium or morphine. Sold by A. R. Penny.

Is Life Worth Living? Not if you suffer through the world's dyspeptic. Dr. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets are a positive cure for the worst forms of dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency and constipation. Guaranteed and sold by A. R. Penny.

Can't Sleep Nights. Is the complaint of thousands suffering from asthma, consumption, coughs, etc. Did you ever try Dr. Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all lung troubles. Sold on a positive guarantee at 50c and 1.00 per bottle by A. R. Penny.

We Can and Do. Guarantee Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. It is a positive cure for skin eruptions, pimples, eruptions and pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution. A. R. Penny.

A Duty to Yourself. It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. For sale by A. R. Penny.

A continual coughing is very annoying to persons sitting near you in any kind of a gathering; besides, it is of great damage to the throat and lungs and is exceedingly dangerous at this season of the year. One-half bottle of Bege's Cherry Cough Syrup will relieve any ordinary cough, and it is a remedy too to cure the most obstinate grades that are thrown on the markets to sell at enormous profits. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

Colored Gentleman—"Permit me, Miss Simberly, to express my felicity of presenting my seat."

Remarkable Rescue. Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold while settled on her horses; she was treated for a month by her family physician but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested the use of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself better. Her druggist suggested she continued its use and after taking ten bottles she found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as the ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at A. R. Penny's drug store; large bottles 50c and $1.

Happy Hoosiers. Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Indiana, writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease of life. Only 50c a bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store."

The taxes for State purposes are lower in Missouri than in any State in the Union. It has always been managed by democrats, which accounts for it.
